

Phonics

In this unit, students demonstrate mastery of spoken words, syllables, and sounds (phonemes). They will distinguish long from short vowel sounds, while decoding one- syllable words.

1. RF.1.2. Demonstrate mastery of spoken words, syllables, and sounds (phonemes) by using knowledge that every syllable must have a vowel sound to determine the number of syllables in a printed word.

A. Distinguish long from short vowel sounds in spoken single-syllable words.

2. RF.1.3. Know and apply grade-level phonics and word analysis skills in decoding words.

B. Decode regularly spelled one-syllable words.

Lesson 1: Phonics: letters m, s, t, b short a (RF.1.2.A, RF.1.3.B), Centers (L.1.1.A), Daily Instructional Task (L.1.1.A)

Learning Intentions:

- I am learning the sound-spellings for short a and the consonants m, s, t, b.
- I am learning how to decode words by sound letter relationships.
- I am learning how to blend sounds and decode regularly spelled one-syllable words with /a/, /m/, /s/, /t/, and /b/.

Success Criteria:

- I can say and write the sound-spelling of short a and consonants m,s,t,b.
- I can decode words by their sound letter relationships.
- I can correctly write dictated words.

Review: Alphabet letters, vowels, and consonants

- Tell students that they will begin today by reviewing the letters of the alphabet. Point to each letter, as students say the name of the letter. Remind students that there are letters that are vowels. Point to a, e, i, o, u, as they say the name of the letter.

Part 1: Direct instruction

- I do: Display the Mm letter card. Model for students how to write and say the Mm sound. As you write the letter Mm, say Mm /m/ like in moth, from, remember.

- We do: Ask students to say the letter name, sound, and write the letter with you, using the manuscript Mm worksheet from HMH.
 - Say, as I point to the letter we will say its name, its sound, and write it as we repeat its sound.
 - Display the letter card Mm. With students, say Mm, /m/, write the letter Mm, while saying /m/.

Handwriting Model

► Trace and write the letters.

- Repeat the above steps with letters:

- Consonants:

- Ss /s/- seahorse, yes, sister
- Tt /t/- tiger, heart, water
- Bb /b/- bear, crab ,table

- Vowels:

- Short Aa /a/- alligator, apple, mat

- I do: Teach students how to read a word systematically from left to right by combining each successive letter or combination of letters into one sound. This is called blending. Start with simple consonant-vowel-consonant (CVC) words that are familiar to students. Demonstrate how to blend. Tell students that these letters and sounds blend together to create words. Display the letter cards Mm Aa Tt. Model blending the word 'mat', use your finger and slide across while saying /m/ /a/ /t/ mat.

- We do: Tell students that they will be blending words with you. Display the letter cards Bb Aa Tt. With students, blend the word 'bat', use your finger and slide across while saying with students /b/ /a/ /t/ bat.
 - Blend the words: Sam, tab

- You do: Have students practice blending with the following words, independently. Provide feedback as students begin to apply.
 - sat, am, bam
 - Give students a quick spelling test based on the phonics pattern being learned. Ask students to listen for all of the sounds in the words you dictate and to write each word. They should say the sounds as they write them. For this lesson the words are: at, bat, mat, sat, am, Tam, bam, Sam, tab

Part 2: Practice / Centers

Teacher Table Time (TTT)

1. Teacher Table Time (TTT): This is the time to work with those students who need guidance in recognizing, hearing, and producing short a and consonant sounds: m,s,t,b. Teachers should quickly review spelling test results to determine students who were unable to do the task with 80% proficiency.
2. Model again and have students mimic you. Correct as needed.
3. Have students write short a CVC words and consonant m,s,t,b CVC words.
4. Have students partner and read decodable text. If students get stuck on a decodable word, have them blend the phonemes. Model as needed.

Part 3: Daily Instructional Task

1. Dictate these words: at, bat, mat, sat, am, Tam, bam, Sam, tab
2. Have students say the sounds as they write each word.
3. Add date to task.
4. Provide feedback to students. For students who could not do the task, include them in the TTT for the next day.

Lesson 2: Phonics: letters m, s, t, b short a (RF.1.2.A, RF.1.3.B), Centers (L.1.1.A), Daily Instructional Task (L.1.2)

- I can say and write the sound-spelling of short a and consonants m,s,t,b.
- I can decode words by their sound letter relationships.
- I can correctly write dictated words.

Part 1: Direct instruction

- I Do: Explain to students that good readers think about what they are reading and whether the words read make sense. Show students the text, Tam at Bat. Show students how you self-correct errors while reading by looking at the word and applying what you know about phonics. Rather than use the prompting in HMH (Does it look right? Make sense?), ask students to look at each letter in the word and blend them together using what they know about letter sounds. Teach them to apply what you have been teaching.
- We Do: Have children partner read page 14 of the text. Listen as children read and support students' self-correction, Again, emphasize phonics as the main method.
- I Do: Model for students how you blend letters sounds together to read words. Display the letter cards: t, a, m, s, a, t. Ask students what letter sound the short a makes. Have them repeat that sound. Then model sweeping your hand beneath the letter cards (left to right) and slowly say each sound, blending them together and then read the word naturally. Repeat for second word (sat).

Part 3: Daily Instructional Task

1. Dictate these words: Sam bats. Tab sat. Tam at bat.
2. Have students say the sounds as they write each word.
3. Add date to task.
4. Provide feedback to students. For students who could not do the task, include them in the TTT for the next day.

Lesson 5: Phonics: letters m, s, t, b short a (RF.1.2.A, RF.1.3.B), Centers (L.1.1.A), Daily Instructional Task (L.1.2)

Learning Intentions:

- I am learning the sound-spellings for short a and the consonants m, s, t, b.
- I am learning how to decode words by sound letter relationships.
- I am learning how to blend sounds and decode regularly spelled one-syllable words with /a/, /m/, /s/, /t/, and /b/.

Success Criteria:

- I can say and write the sound-spelling of short a and consonants m,s,t,b.
- I can decode words by their sound letter relationships.
- I can correctly write dictated words.

Part 1: Assessment

1. Assess students' knowledge of short a and consonant sounds m,s,t,b through a spelling and dictation task.
2. Spelling Assessment \(from HMH\): Say each word and say each sentence. Have students write each word. All students should set up their spelling sheet by numbering 1 to 6 on one side.
3. Dictation Task: Tam at bat. Sam sat. Tab's mats.
4. Give one point for each correctly spelled word. Total possible points is 13.

A+ = 13	A = 12	B = 11
C = 10	D = 8-9	F / Do Over = 7

DICTIONATION SENTENCES BASIC

1. mat Wipe your feet on the mat.
2. sat We sat on the couch.
3. bat The ball player has a bat.
4. Sam That boy is named Sam.
5. am I am in first grade.
6. at We are at school now.

1 mat _____

Part 2: Reading Decodable Texts

1. Invite students to partner read, Sam at Bat and Tam at Bat.
2. Spend time during this period listening to students read the decodable texts: Sam at Bat and Tam at Bat.
3. Record your findings.

Lesson 6: Phonics: letters n, d, p, c /k/, short a (RF.1.2.A, RF.1.3.B), Centers (L.1.1.A), Daily Instructional Task (L.1.1.A)

Learning Intentions:

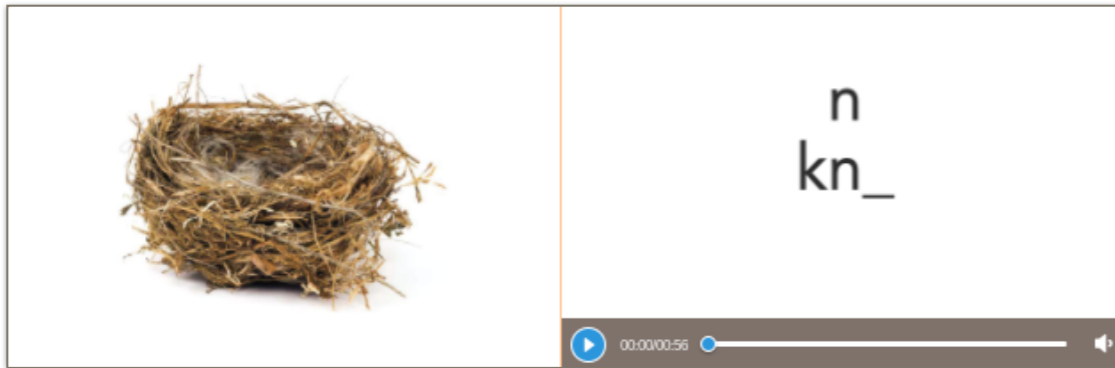

- I am learning the sound-spellings for short a and the consonants n, d, p, c.
- I am learning how to decode words by sound letter relationships.
- I am learning how to blend sounds and decode regularly spelled one-syllable words with /a/, /n/, /d/, /p/, and /k/.

Success Criteria:

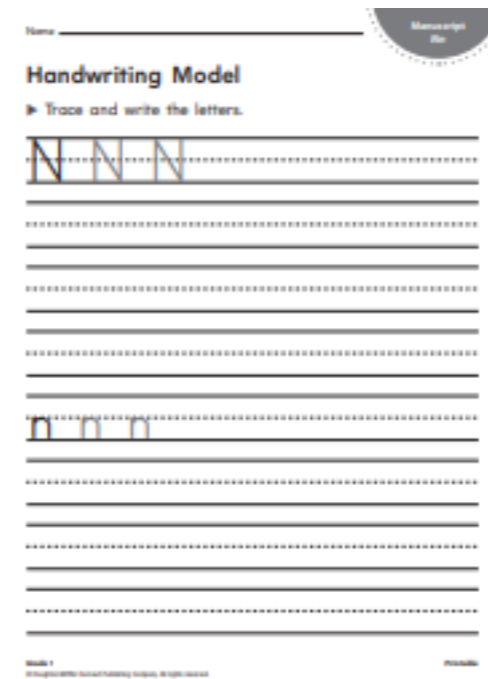

- I can say and write the sound-spelling of short a and consonants n, d, p, c.
- I can decode words by their sound letter relationships.
- I can correctly write dictated words.

Part 1: Direct instruction

- I do: Display the Nn letter card. Model for students how to write and say the Nn sound. As you write the letter Nn, say Nn /n/ like in nest, run, under.

- We do: Ask students to say the letter name, sound, and write the letter with you, using the manuscript Nn worksheet from HMH.
 - Say, as I point to the letter we will say its name, its sound, and write it as we repeat its sound.
 - Display the letter card Nn. With students, say Nn, /n/, write the letter Nn, while saying /n/.

- Repeat the above steps with letters:
 - Consonants:
 - Dd /d/- duck, around, under
 - Pp /p/- porcupine, pop, puddle
 - Cc /k/- cat, uncle, music
 - Vowels:
 - Short Aa /a/- alligator, apple, mat

- I do: Teach students how to read a word systematically from left to right by combining each successive letter or combination of letters into one sound. This is called blending. Start with simple consonant-vowel-consonant (CVC) words that are familiar to students. Demonstrate how to blend. Tell students that these letters and sounds blend together to create words. Display the letter cards Nn Aa Pp. Model blending the word 'nap', use your finger and slide across while saying /n/ /a/ /p/ nap.

- We do: Tell students that they will be blending words with you. Display the letter cards Pp Aa Nn. With students, blend the word 'pan', use your finger and slide across while saying with students /p/ /a/ /n/ pan.
 - Blend the words: sad, tan

- You do: Have students practice blending with the following words, independently. Provide feedback as students begin to apply.
 - Bad, map
 - Give students a quick spelling test based on the phonics pattern being learned. Ask students to listen for all of the sounds in the words you dictate and to write each word. They should say the sounds as they write them. For this lesson the words are: can, cat, dan, pat, mat, pad

Part 2: Practice / Centers

Teachers should quickly review spelling test results to determine students who were unable to do the task with 80% proficiency.
2. Model again and have students mimic you. Correct as needed.
3. Have students write short a CVC words and consonant n, d, p, c CVC words.
4. Have students partner and read decodable text. If students get stuck on a decodable word, have them blend the phonemes. Model as needed.

- I can correctly write dictated words.

Part 1: Direct instruction

- I Do: Explain to students that good readers think about what they are reading and whether the words read make sense. Show students the text, Can Tab Nap?. Show students how you self-correct errors while reading by looking at the word and applying what you know about phonics. Rather than use the prompting in HMH (Does it look right? Make sense?), ask students to look at each letter in the word and blend them together using what they know about letter sounds. Teach them to apply what you have been teaching.
- We Do: Have children partner read page 62 of the text. Listen as children read and support students' self-correction, Again, emphasize phonics as the main method.
- I Do: Model for students how you blend letters sounds together to read words. Display the letter cards: c, a, t, n, a, p. Ask students what letter sound the short a makes. Have them repeat that sound. Then model sweeping your hand beneath the letter cards (left to right) and slowly say each sound, blending them together and then read the word naturally. Repeat for the second syllable (nap).

- Rr /r/- raccoon, car, Sarah
- Ff /f/- fish, snowflake, off
- Ss /z/- his, boys, cousin

- I do: Teach students how to read a word systematically from left to right by combining each successive letter or combination of letters into one sound. This is called blending. Start with simple consonant-vowel-consonant (CVC) words that are familiar to students. Demonstrate how to blend. Tell students that these letters and sounds blend together to create words. Display the letter cards Ff Ii Nn. Model blending the word 'fin', use your finger and slide across while saying /f/ /i/ /n/ fin.

- We do: Tell students that they will be blending words with you. Display the letter cards Rr Ii Pp. With students, blend the word 'rip', use your finger and slide across while saying with students /r/ /i /p/ rip.
 - Blend the words: fat, as
- You do: Have students practice blending with the following words, independently. Provide feedback as students begin to apply.
 - Is, pin
 - Give students a quick spelling test based on the phonics pattern being learned. Ask students to listen for all of the sounds in the words you dictate and to write each word. They should say the sounds as they write them. For this lesson the words are: Tim, mit, sit, ran, fan, tip, sip, cats

Part 1: Direct instruction

- I Do: Explain to students that good readers think about what they are reading and whether the words read make sense. Show students the text, Fin . Show students how you self-correct errors while reading by looking at the word and applying what you know about phonics. Rather than use the prompting in HMH (Does it look right? Make sense?), ask students to look at each letter in the word and blend them together using what they know about letter sounds. Teach them to apply what you have been teaching.
- We Do: Have children partner read page 94 of the text. Listen as children read and support students' self-correction, Again, emphasize phonics as the main method.
- I Do: Model for students how you blend letters sounds together to read words. Display the letter cards: c, a, t, n, i, p. Ask students what letter sound the short a makes. Have them repeat that sound. Then model sweeping your hand beneath the letter cards (left to right) and slowly say each sound, blending them together and then read the word naturally. Repeat for the second syllable (nip).

Write the following words as you sound them out. Use crayons, markers, playdoh

Center 3: Independent Read

1. Read the decodable text. Go, Big Cab!

2. Then read it to your partner.
3. Then listen to your partner read it to you.

Center 4: Lexia

Part 3: Daily Instructional Task

1. Dictate these words: Kim is in the cab. The cat is big. Dad sat in the car.
2. Have students say the sounds as they write each word.
3. Add date to task.
4. Provide feedback to students. For students who could not do the task, include them in the TTT for the next day.

Lesson 18: Phonics: letters g, k, short /i/ and short /a/ (RF. 1.2.A, RF.1.3.B), Centers (L.1.1.A), Daily Instructional Task (L. 1.2)

Learning Intentions:

- I am learning the sound-spellings for short a and i.
- I am learning how to decode words by sound letter relationships.
- I am learning how to blend sounds and decode regularly spelled one-syllable words with /a/, /i/

Success Criteria:

- I can say and write the sound-spelling of short a and i.
- I can decode words by their sound letter relationships.
- I can correctly write dictated words.

Part 1: Direct instruction

- I do: Display the Aa letter card. Model for students how to write and say the Aa sound. As you write the letter Aa, say Aa /a/ like in alligator, apple, mat.

- We do: Ask students to say the letter name, sound, and write the letter with you, using the manuscript Aa worksheet from HMH.
 - Say, as I point to the letter we will say its name, its sound, and write it as we repeat its sound.
 - Display the letter card Aa. With students, say Aa, /a/, write the letter Aa, while saying /a/.

- Repeat the above steps with letters:

- Consonants:

- li /i/- igloo, win, insect

- I do: Teach students how to read a word systematically from left to right by combining each successive letter or combination of letters into one sound. This is called blending. Start with simple consonant-vowel-consonant (CVC) words that are familiar to students. Demonstrate how to blend. Tell students that these letters and sounds blend together to create words. Display the letter cards Rr Aa Mm. Model blending the word 'ram', use your finger and slide across while saying /r/ /a/ /m/ ram.

- We do: Have students practice this blending task by displaying Blend and Read 2.2. Have children read a line and then ask them how they are similar and different. Continue in this manner through the list. Have them read the sentences chorally.

Blend and Read

- gas sag gab bag big
- fig kit kid did dad
- fan fans raps rips nip
- gig kin gap gaps gasp
- Nan has a bag of figs.
- Kim has a big cab.

- You do: Have students practice blending with the following words, independently. Provide feedback as students begin to apply.
 - Gasp, sits
 - Give students a quick spelling test based on the phonics pattern being learned. Ask students to listen for all of the sounds in the words you dictate and to write each word. They should say the sounds as they write them. For this lesson the words are: rasp, past, mits, mist, king.

Part 2: Practice / Centers

Teacher Table Time (TTT)

1. Teacher Table Time (TTT): This is the time to work with those students who need guidance in recognizing, hearing, and producing short i and short a and consonant sounds: g, k. Teachers should quickly review spelling test results to determine students who were unable to do the task with 80% proficiency.
2. Model again and have students mimic you. Correct as needed.
3. Have students write short i and short a CVC words and consonant g, k CVC words.
4. Have students partner and read decodable text. If students get stuck on a decodable word, have them blend the phonemes. Model as needed.

1. Read decodable text, Big Pat

Lesson 19: Phonics: letters g, k, short /i/ and short /a/ (RF. 1.2.A, RF.1.3.B), Centers (L.1.1.A), Daily Instructional Task (L. 1.2)

Learning Intentions:

- I am learning the sound-spellings for short a and short i .
- I am learning how to decode words by sound letter relationships.
- I am learning how to blend sounds and decode regularly spelled one-syllable words with /i/, /a/

Success Criteria:

- I can say and write the sound-spelling of short a and i.
- I can decode words by their sound letter relationships.
- I can correctly write dictated words.

Part 1: Direct instruction

- I Do: Explain to students that good readers think about what they are reading and whether the words read make sense. Show students the text, Big Pat . Show students how you self-correct errors while reading by looking at the word and applying what you know about phonics. Rather than use the prompting in HMH (Does it look right? Make sense?), ask students to look at each letter in the word and blend them together using what they know about letter sounds. Teach them to apply what you have been teaching.

- We Do: Have children partner read page 126 of the text. Listen as children read and support students' self-correction, Again, emphasize phonics as the main method.
- I Do: Model for students how you blend letters sounds together to read words. Display the letter cards: b, a, t, m, a, n. Ask students what letter sound the short a makes. Have them repeat that sound. Then model sweeping your hand beneath the letter cards (left to right) and slowly say each sound, blending them together and then read the word naturally. Repeat for the second syllable (man).

b a t m a n

- We do: Have students practice this blending task by displaying Blend and Read 2.3. Have children read a line and then ask them how they are similar and different. Continue in this manner through the list. Have them read the sentences chorally.

Lesson 24: Phonics: l, h, short o; review short a, i, o (RF.1.2.A, RF.1.3.B), Centers (L.1.1.A), Daily Instructional Task (L.1.2)

Learning Intentions:

- I am learning the sound-spellings for short a, i and o.
- I am learning how to decode words by sound letter relationships.
- I am learning how to blend sounds and decode regularly spelled one-syllable words with /a/, /i/, /o/

Success Criteria:

- I can say and write the sound-spelling of short a, i and o.
- I can decode words by their sound letter relationships.
- I can correctly write dictated words.

Part 1: Direct instruction

- I Do: Explain to students that good readers think about what they are reading and whether the words read make sense. Show students the text, Hope on it Dot! Show students how you self-correct errors while reading by looking at the word and applying what you know about phonics. Rather than use the prompting in HMH (Does it look right? Make sense?), ask students to look at each letter in the word and blend them together using what they know about letter sounds. Teach them to apply what you have been teaching.
- We Do: Have children partner read page 157 -159 of the text. Listen as children read and support students' self-correction, Again, emphasize phonics as the main method.
- I Do: Model for students how you blend letter sounds together to read words. Display the letter cards: t-i-p t-o-p . Ask students what letter sound the short i makes. Have them repeat that sound. Repeat asking about the sound the short o makes. Then model sweeping your hand beneath the letter cards (left to right) and slowly say each sound, blending them together and then read the word naturally. Repeat for the second syllable (top).

tip top - tiptop

- We do: Have students practice this blending task by displaying . Have children read a line and then ask them how they are similar and different. Continue in this manner through the list. Have them read the sentences chorally.

Learning Intentions:

- I am learning the sound-spellings for short u and the consonants w, j, y, v.
- I am learning how to decode words by sound letter relationships.
- I am learning how to blend sounds and decode regularly spelled one-syllable words with /w/, /j/, /y/, /v/, /u/.

Success Criteria:

- I can say and write the sound-spelling of short u and consonants w, j, y, v.
- I can decode words by their sound letter relationships.
- I can correctly write dictated words.

Center 4: Lexia

Part 3: Daily Instructional Task

1. Dictate these words: Mud is fun. The dog sat up. The pot is hot.
2. Have students say the sounds as they write each word.
3. Add date to task.
4. Provide feedback to students. For students who could not do the task, include them in the TTT for the next day.

Part 1: Direct instruction

- I Do: Explain to students that good readers think about what they are reading and whether the words read make sense. Show students the text, Bad Pup, Wags. Show students how you self-correct errors while reading by looking at the word and applying what you know about phonics. Rather than use the prompting in HMH (Does it look right? Make sense?), ask students to look at each letter in the word and blend them together using what they know about letter sounds. Teach them to apply what you have been teaching.
- We Do: Have children partner read page 190 of the text. Listen as children read and support students' self-correction, Again, emphasize phonics as the main method.
- I Do: Model for students how you blend letters sounds together to read words. Display the letter cards: c, a, n, n, o, t. Ask students what letter sound the short a makes. Ask students for the sound of short o. Have them repeat that sound. Then model sweeping your hand beneath the letter cards (left to right) and slowly say each sound, blending them together and then read the word naturally. Repeat for the second syllable (not).

Make sense?), ask students to look at each letter in the word and blend them together using what they know about letter sounds. Teach them to apply what you have been teaching.
- We Do: Have children partner read page 30 of the text. Listen as children read and support students' self-correction. Again, emphasize phonics as the main method.
- I Do: Model for students how you blend letter sounds together to read words. Display the letter cards: w, i, g, w, a, g. Ask students what letter sound the short i makes. Ask students for the sound of short a. Have them repeat that sound. Then model sweeping your hand beneath the letter cards (left to right) and slowly say each sound, blending them together and then read the word naturally. Repeat for the second syllable (wag).

Teacher Table Time (TTT)

1. Teacher Table Time (TTT): This is the time to work with those students who need guidance in recognizing, hearing, and producing short e and consonant sounds: qu, x, z. Teachers should quickly review spelling test results to determine students who were unable to do the task with 80% proficiency.
2. Model again and have students mimic you. Correct as needed.
3. Have students write short e CVC words and consonant qu, x, z CVC words.
4. Have students partner and read decodable text. If students get stuck on a decodable word, have them blend the phonemes. Model as needed.

Learning Intentions:

- I am learning the sound-spellings for double final consonants ll, ff, ss, zz.
- I am learning how to decode words by sound letter relationships.
- I am learning how to blend sounds and decode regularly spelled one-syllable words with double final consonants /ll/, /ff/, /ss/, /zz/.

Success Criteria:

- I can say and write the sound-spelling of double final consonants ff, ll, ss, zz.
- I can decode words by their sound letter relationships.
- I can correctly write dictated words.

Part 1: Direct instruction

- I do: Display the ll letter card. Model for students how to write and say double final consonant ll sound. As you write the letter ll, say sometimes two letters can make one sound and even the same sound like in tell, well, and will.
 - Repeat with final consonant /ss/ as in grass, miss, and glass. Create a sound card if needed.
 - Repeat with final consonant /zz/ as in buzz, jazz, and frizz. Create a sound if needed.

- We do: Ask students to say the letter names, sounds, and write the letters with you, using lined paper for the double final consonants.
 - Say, as I point to the letter we will say its name, its sound, and write it as we repeat its sound.
 - Display the letter cards for the double final consonants ll, ff, ss, zz. With students, say take turns saying and writing double consonant ll.

- Repeat the above steps with letters:

- Double final Consonants:
 - Ss - mess, class
 - Zz - fuzz, buzz
- I do: Teach students how to read a word systematically from left to right by combining each successive letter or combination of letters into one sound. This is called blending. Start with simple consonant-vowel-consonant (CVC) words that are familiar to students. Demonstrate how to blend. Tell students that these letters and sounds blend together to create words. Remind students that two letters together can say one sound. Display the letter cards t - e - ll. Model blending the word 'tell', use your finger and slide across while saying /t/ /e/ /ll/ tell.

- Repeat the above step for the words muff and jazz

- We do: Have students practice this blending task by displaying the words below. Have children read a line and then ask them how they are similar and different. Continue in this manner through the list. Have them read the sentences chorally.

pass	egg	odd	fuzz	leg

Part 3: Daily Instructional Task

- Dictate these sentences: miss, will, back, stick, pill
- Have students say the sounds as they write each word.
- Add date to task.
- Provide feedback to students. For students who could not do the task, include them in the TTT for the next day.

Lesson 40: Phonics: double final consonants -ff, -ss, -zz, -ll; -ck (RF.1.2.A, RF.1.3.B), Centers (L.1.1.A), Daily Instructional Task (L.1.2)

Learning Intentions:

- I am learning the sound-spellings for double final consonants ll, ff, ss, zz, and ck.
- I am learning how to decode words by sound letter relationships.
- I am learning how to blend sounds and decode regularly spelled one-syllable words with double final consonants /ll/, /ff/, /ss/, /zz/, ck /k/

Success Criteria:

- I can say and write the sound-spelling of double final consonants ff, ll, ss, zz, and ck /k/
- I can decode words by their sound letter relationships.
- I can correctly write dictated words.

Part 1: Assessment

1. Assess students' knowledge of double final consonants ll, ff, ss, zz, and ck through a spelling and dictation task.
2. Spelling Assessment \(from HMH\): Say each word and say each sentence. Have students write each word. All students should set up their spelling sheet by numbering 1 to 6 on one side and 7-12 on the other side.
3. Dictation Task: The bug will buzz. We will call Jeff to go back to class.
4. Give one point for each correctly spelled word. Total possible points is 25.

A+ - 25	A = 23-24	B = 20-22
C = 18-19	D = 17	F / Do Over = 16

DICTION SENTENCES

- Record your findings.

Lesson 41: Phonics: consonant digraph sh, review s and sh (RF.1.2.A, RF.1.3.B), Centers (L.1.1.A), Daily Instructional Task (L.1.2)

Learning Intentions:

- I am learning the sound-spellings for the digraph sh.
- I am learning how to decode words by sound letter relationships.
- I am learning how to blend sounds and decode regularly spelled words with /sh/.

Success Criteria:

- I can say and write the sound-spelling of the digraph sh.
- I can decode words by their sound letter relationships.
- I can correctly write dictated words.

Part 1: Direct Instruction

- I do: Display the sh letter card. Model for students how to write and say the sh sound. As you write the letters sh, say sh /sh/ like in shark, fish, cashier

- We do: Ask students to say the letter name, sound, and write the letter with you, using the manuscript sh worksheet.
 - Say, as I point to the letter we will say its name, its sound, and write it as we repeat its sound.
 - Display the letter card sh. With students, say sh, /sh/, write the letters sh, while saying /sh/.

- I do: Teach students how to read a word systematically from left to right by combining each successive letter or combination of letters into one sound. This is called blending. Start with simple consonant-vowel-consonant (CVC) words that are familiar to students. Demonstrate how to blend. Tell students that these letters and sounds blend together to create words. Display the letter cards Sh Oo Pp. Model blending the word 'shop', use your finger and slide across while saying /sh/ /o/ /p/ shop.

- 5 The tan cat shed fuzz on Jan.
- 6 What pet will Jan want now?

- You do: Have students practice blending with the following words, independently. Provide feedback as students begin to apply.
 - Dish, mash
 - Give students a quick spelling test based on the phonics pattern being learned. Ask students to listen for all of the sounds in the words you dictate and to write each word. They should say the sounds as they write them. For this lesson the words are: bash, sash, ship, shut

- I can decode words by their sound letter relationships.
- I can correctly write dictated words.

Part 1: Direct instruction

- I Do: Explain to students that good readers think about what they are reading and whether the words read make sense. Show students the text, Six Pet Fish Show students how you self-correct errors while reading by looking at the word and applying what you know about phonics. Rather than use the prompting in HMH (Does it look right? Make sense?), ask students to look at each letter in the word and blend them together using what they know about letter sounds. Teach them to apply what you have been teaching.
- We Do: Have children partner read page 94 of the text. Listen as children read and support students' self-correction, again, emphasize phonics as the main method.
- I Do: Model for students how you blend letters sounds together to read words. Display the letter cards: sh, e, l, l, f, i, sh. Ask students what letter sound the short i makes. Ask students for the sound of short a. Have them repeat that sound. Then model sweeping your hand beneath the letter cards (left to right) and slowly say each sound, blending them together and then read the word naturally. Repeat for the second syllable.

- I can say and write the sound-spelling of the digraph sh.
- I can decode words by their sound letter relationships.
- I can correctly write dictated words.

Center 4: Lexia

Part 3: Daily Instructional Task

1. Dictate these sentences: The dish had mush on it. The shed was in the back.
2. Have students say the sounds as they write each word.
3. Add date to task.
4. Provide feedback to students. For students who could not do the task, include them in the TTT for the next day.

Part 1: Assessment

1. Assess students' knowledge of consonant digraph sh through a spelling and dictation task.
2. Spelling Assessment \(from HMH\): Say each word and say each sentence. Have students write each word. All students should set up their spelling sheet by numbering 1 to 6 on one side and 7-12 on the other side.
3. Dictation Task: Jack did not rush his mom. Jan had a sash on her doll.
4. Give one point for each correctly spelled word. Total possible points is 25.

A+ - 25

A = 23-24

B = 20-22

C = 18-19

D = 17

F / Do Over = 16

Part 2: Reading Decodable Texts

1. Invite students to partner read, Pet Ducks Quack and Six Pet Fish
2. Spend time during this period listening to students read the decodable texts: Pet Ducks Quack and Six Pet Fish
3. Record your findings.
